In this increment, we have worked on developing – "Edit/ View Profile" and "Host Event" Sections. The Edit/ View Profile includes three steps in all. For the new user who is editing the profile for the first time, the first step would be to enter details to edit profile. For, the old user who is revisiting and wants to change the information, he can click on the edit/update button to edit/update his information as shown in the figure.
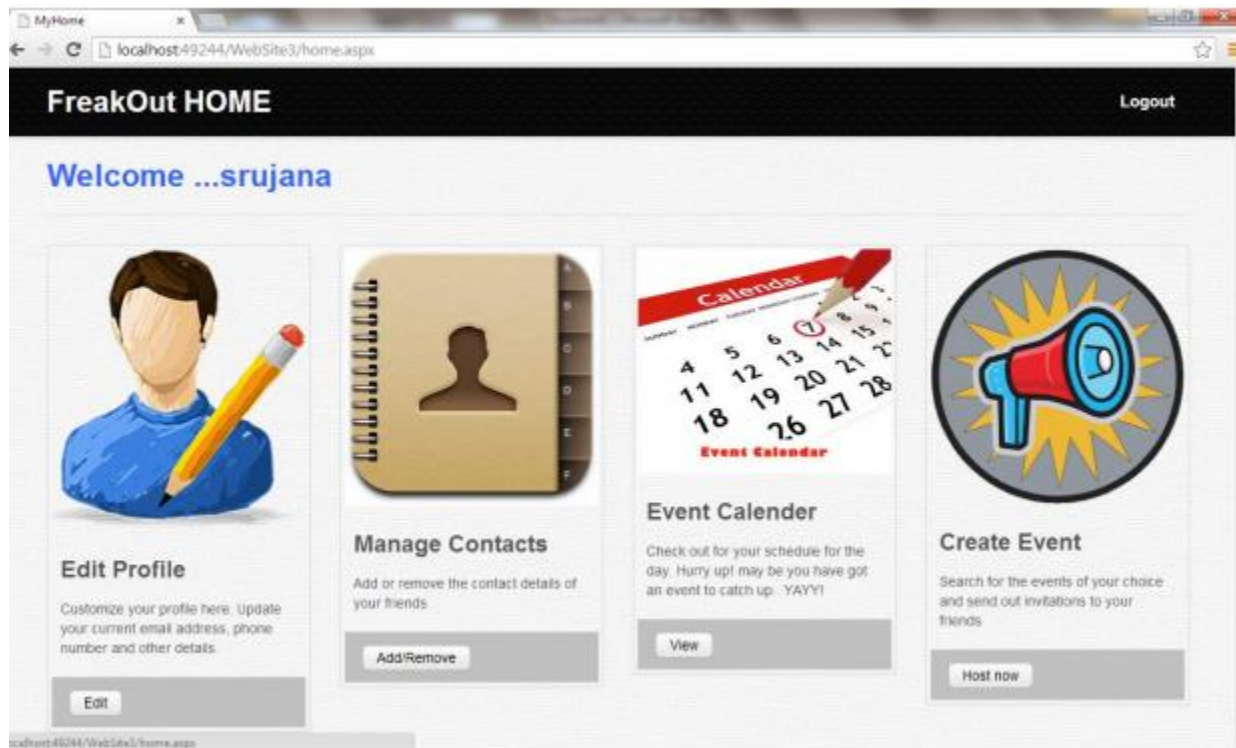

After the button click, he is redirected to the following page and he can fill in the information.
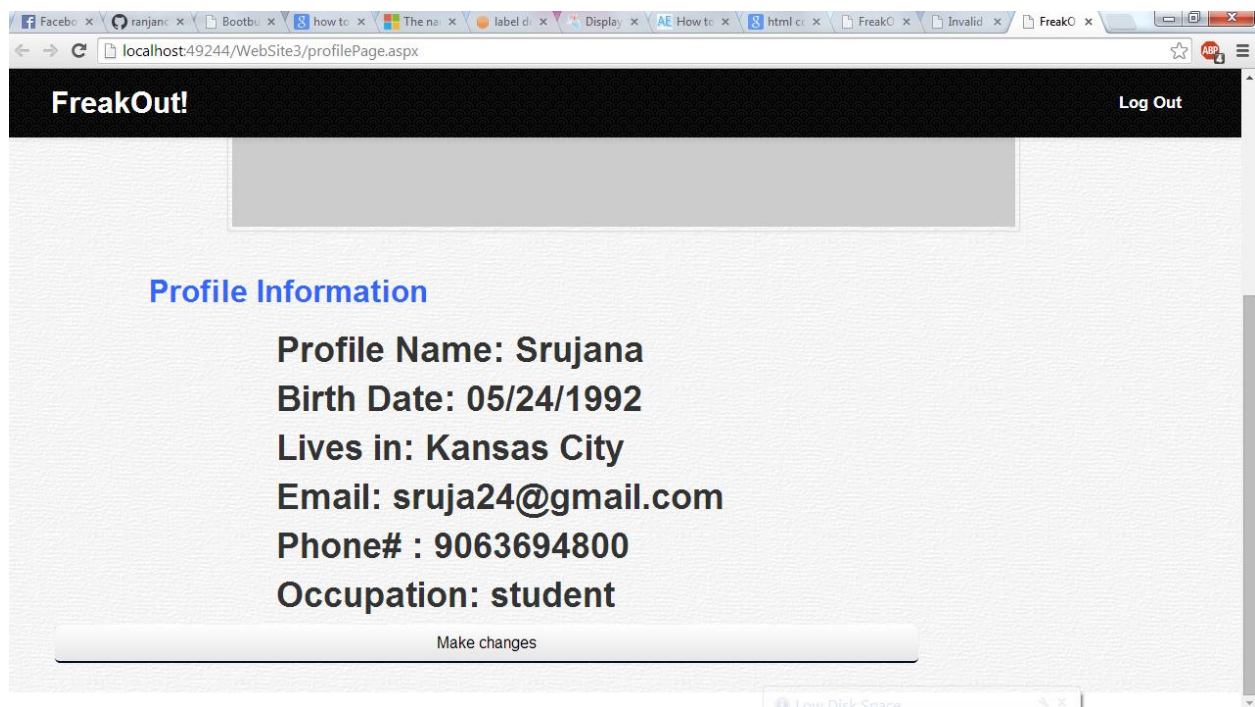

After the user has filled the update information form, he can click the save button and he is redirected to the following page. In the redirected page, he can view the information that the user has updated earlier. If the user wishes to modify the information again, the user can hit the make changes button to edit/update the information. The screenshot is as follows.
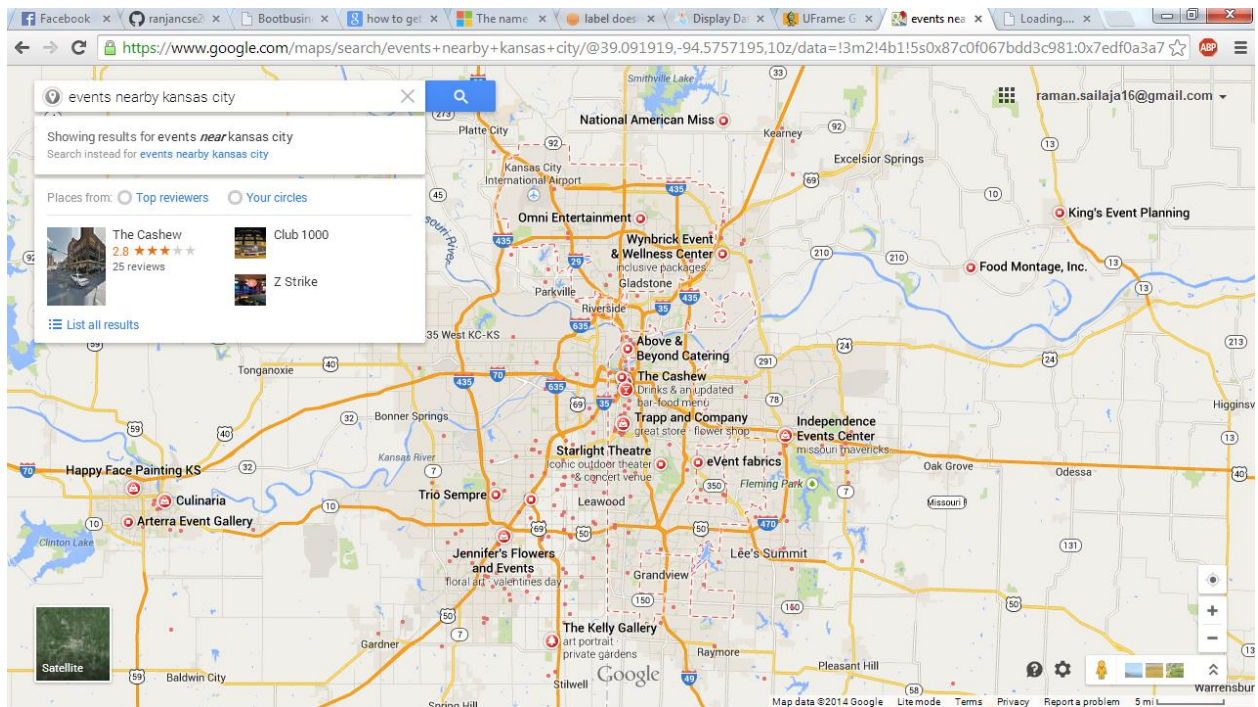

On clicking the host event button, he is redirected to the following page, we are still working on building this page, as of now we have done the following, We have provided two text fields as shown below, one being the Enter city and the other being Enter State name, whenever the user inputs the city and state and hits the submit button, a map showing the events happening in different places is displayed. The screen shot is shown below.
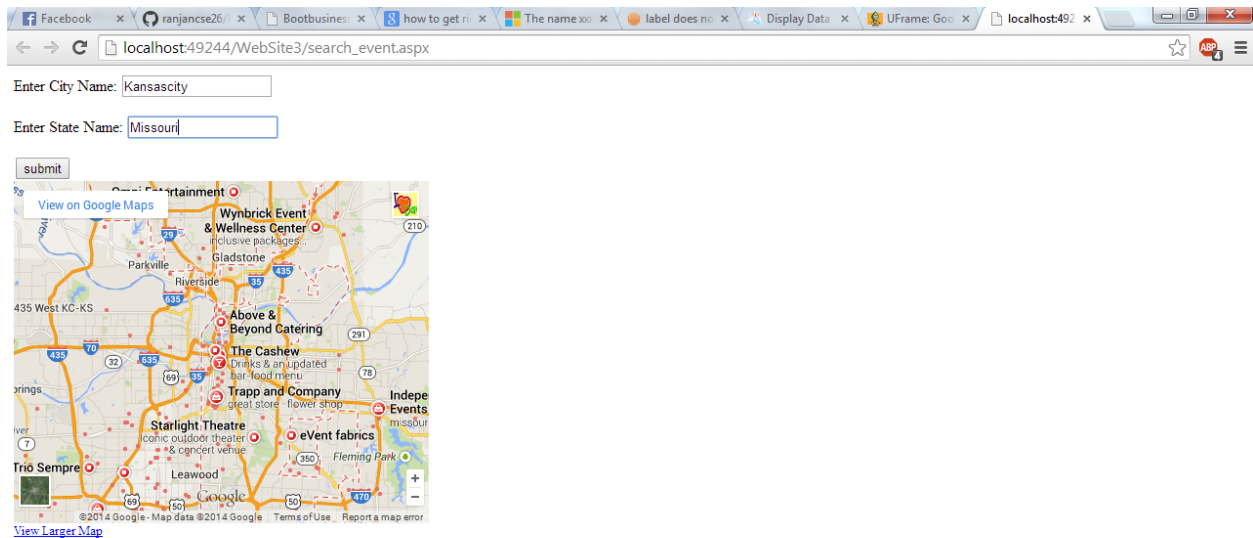

The user can even switch to larger view of map to get detailed information of the events. The user now searches for events happening in Kansas City and the list of events happening in the city are displayed as shown below.

We are still working on this application.
